SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 18, 1875.

Local and State Affairs.

Person who are indebted to us, will confer a favor by calling and settling their accounts.

Items of Local Interest.

Our streets were remarkably quiet on Monday evening.

As peach picking grows lighter the tramps become, Friday, more numerous in town.

The rain on Friday last was heartily welcomed by the town people, if not by peach shippers.

The annual reunion services at Old Dru-ary's Church, near Odessa, were held last Sunday.

The Sheriff's real estate sales are now advertised in the Morning Herald, the new daily paper just started by the Messrs. O'Brien.

School, in district No. 60, will begin on Monday next under charge of Mr. Stephen Higginson.

Miss Annie Maxwell has opened a private school on North Broad street, in the room formerly occupied by G. W. W. Naudain.

Messrs. R. M. & T. Johnson, of Smyrna, intend to open a shoe store in the store room in the Town Hall, this town, recently occupied by Mr. G. W. W. Naudain.

Andrew Kirk, son of James Kirk, Esq., editor of the Dover Delawarean, has been appointed to a cadetship at the U. S. Navy Academy, at Annapolis, by Senator Bayard.

Captain M. W. Mackle, of the Monitor House, Wilmington, has a pumpkin said to measure 4 feet by 5 feet, and to weigh 724 pounds.

Rev. J. Hough preaches at the Methodist Church to-morrow. The Quarterly Conference meets at the usual place at 2 P. M. to-day.

The Morning Herald, published by the Messrs. O'Brien every morning in Wilmington, is a credit to their enterprise and to the city as well.

Peach shipments are now growing smaller every day. "Smocks" and a few other varieties only remain to be shipped and they are scarcely worth calling peaches.

The annual fair of the Peninsula Agricultural and Pomological Association takes place this fall on the 5th, 6th and 7th of October.
Only little more than three weeks off.

The Grangers of New Castle county and adjoining counties of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, are going to have a harvest home and picnic in the woods near Newport on Thursday.

The Sussex Journal says the peach-growers of that county are worse off now financially than they were before the beginning of peach season. Their shipments brought them in debt.

During the evening exhibition of the New Orleans and New York Circus Company at Wilmington last week a severe storm of wind and rain came up, and unceremoniously put a stop to the proceedings.

The Attorney General, it is said, intends to have the warrants which he failed to execute the Coroner's warrants for the arrest of the Whitlocks, indicted at the approaching term of Court for defalcation of duty.

The Herald and Commercial have been picking into each other, this week, on the question of finances—specie and greenbacks—each accusing the other of knowing nothing about the subject.

J. Fletcher Burris, formerly of this Hundred, and a recent graduate of the Michigan University, Ann Arbor, Mich., has obtained a position as teacher in California on a salary of $2500 per annum.

The nine which fell on Thursday may have somewhat retarded the work of gathering and shipping peaches, but it was hailed as a great public blessing by the town people, for the dust had got awfully thick again.

The work of cutting off corn has commenced, and the fields are beginning to present a very autumn-like appearance. The farmers are also busy preparing the ground for wheat and seeding will soon commence.

The "Blind Stagers," the horse disease which recently broke out among the horses in Thoroughfare Neck still prevails in that district and numbers of valuable animals are being daily added to those which have died of it.

Dr. Clayton A. Cowgill, formerly of Dover, but now State Comptroller of Florida, has been making a visit to his parents in Dover for a week or two. He is accompanied by Gov. Stearns and State Senator Burris, of Florida.

Those abominable nuisances, the tramps or peach plucks, now that the peach season is drawing to a close, having spent the money they received for rum, are hanging around the streets and annoying the people by their constant begging.

Wm. Short, an old and eccentric citizen of Georgetown, Sussex Co., died in that town last week. Some of his peculiarities were to wear long white hair and beard, say queer things and profess to believe nothing that he did not see, or feel for himself.

It has been suggested that it would be an eminently proper thing for the stockholders of the Peninsula Agricultural Association, with their wives, daughters and sweethearts, to hold a grand basket picnic on the Fair Grounds previous to the exhibition.

There are said to be about 120 stills in operation in this State making peach brandy.
It is estimated that some 20,000 gallons have already been made and considerable more will be made yet. This feature of the great peach crop looks more like a curse than a blessing.

The injunction case of E. W. Lockwood, against the use of the peach culler patented by John A. Jones, of Middletown, was temporarily disposed of in the United States Court, in Wilmington, Thursday afternoon, by a suspension of the injunction, until the further orders of the Court.

Middletown and Vicinity Items.

BY OUR LOCAL REPORTERS.

Addie Fairbanks, a young lady residing in Odessa, stumbled over a bucket in Sellers' drying-house on Wednesday, and falling on her back received some painful injuries.

There is a rumor in circulation that in one house in Middletown forty negroes live, and in another twenty. If this isn't economy and (bad) health, I'd like to have a better sample.

Land Purchase.—Our townsman, Mr. Wm.
N. Wilson, has purchased of Harrison W.
Vickers, trustee, the farm known as "Tolchester," situated below Chestertown, Md., immediately on Chesapeake Bay. The farm contains 1040 acres, and the price paid for it was $22.25 per acre, and this is considered a good bargain, as 800 acres are tillable and yield good crops, especially corn. The property is a portion of the estate of the Mitchell heirs, of Baltimore, and was once worth $500, but owing to the general decline of land, it has reduced accordingly. Mr. Wilson intends occupying the farm, but may postpone doing so until 1876.

Tramp Skirmish.—Three individuals of roaming proclivities went through town on Wednesday and were all very near the verge of drunkenness. After a great noise on Broad street, the trio started down the road leading to Smyrna, and when opposite E. R.
Cochran's nursery one of them commenced throwing stones at the negroes employed there, though we are not informed whether there was any provocation for the same or not. The 15th amendment could not stand this attack without getting angry, so he went for the whole three of them and threw them pretty well, when an arrival of some white men caused him to desist. The affair was witnessed from the corner of Broad and Main streets, and attracted some notice from passers by.

Cutting Corn.—At Sellers' drying house in this town, Mr. James Collins is employed as chiefly of the colored race. Some difficulty has been occasioned in keeping many of these hands awake during the night, and among hand sleepers is Mary Blackiston. Now, on Friday night of last week Mary was "snoozing" complacently, and "not a wave of trouble rolled across her peaceful" brain. Mr. Collins approached her three times and tapped her on the arm, at the same time telling her to wake up and go to work. The last time he did so he shook her harder than usual and before he half and drew it across his wrist, cutting a bad gash, and rendering medical aid necessary, beside causing a loss of time to Mr. Collins at the factory. Mary alleges that it was all an accident, but some of her friends are anxious to prove that she had previously made threats to repay her overseer for his style of talking to her ladyship. The case may be peaceably settled, as the woman has begged forgiveness and offered to pay the doctor's bill.

Delaware City Items.

DELAWARE CITY, Sept. 17.

The "Park" presents a very inviting appearance. O, if it was only larger!

Business is lively in our town as elsewhere, and though there is a dullness we have no real cause for complaint.

The Chesapeake and Delaware canal has done an exceedingly good business this summer. Boats are even "clocked" in the river on Sundays, so as to allow safe transportation to the perishable freight.

The large building formerly used as a tin manufactory is now made a canning house.
One day last week 1,500 baskets of tomatoes were put up, the skins having been taken from them previously. Cans are purchased in New York to supply the firm.

A large treatise-work is lying near the canal locks, which is to be used to dam the canal during the coming winter, so that repairs to the locks can be made. It is probable that the Canal Company are aware that these repairs are necessary, and should have been completed before this.

Repairs are being made to the Battery south of our town and have been in progress for some time. The Government is also building a similar Battery opposite Fort Pulaski. Boats are even "clocked" in the river on Sundays, so as to allow safe transportation
to the perishable freight.

The sporting season has opened with a charge on the blackbirds and redbirds.
Early in the morning gunners station themselves on the canal locks, and as the birds fly over in flocks a shot is fired into them and the birds fall in easy reach. Quite a good number have already been killed, and as the days go by many new sportsmen are added to the number.

E. C. Von Culin, job printer, is thinking of starting a weekly paper soon. They have a very good office now, but with additional newspaper type it will be more complete. We wish the paper success, but that success will depend on the practical knowledge the proprietors have of running a paper.
We are not informed when the first issue will be sent out.

Rev. T. Ralston Smith delivered an able sermon, and one very much appreciated, at the Presbyterian Church on last Sunday evening, his text being Prov. 2nd chap. 1st verse to 31st verse. A good attendance was noticed, and the speaker had the pleasure of close attention to his words, of which he is quite fond. It will be remembered, that Mr. Smith was once (in 1852) stationed in our town.

Many farmers have shipped peaches this season that were not good enough to pay freight, and consequently were not taken from the deck of the Major Reynolds, but brought back to Delaware City and emptied in the river. The opinion prevails that the later fruit will pay, and thus will the growers make up for their loss on earlier varieties.
It is shown here that cheap freights are not beneficial.

The circus that recently appeared in Middletown exhibited here the day previous. Not much money was taken away by the three card monte men, for all they got did not amount to $20. I see they operated successfully in Middletown. The circus performances were good, and were largely attended.
One feature of the day was putting the elephant in the canal for a bath, and well did his lordship enjoy the water, for he swam and snorled for some time.

A New and Improved Culler.

Our ingenious friend, Mr. John A. Jones, has made an addition of another section to his assorter, so that it will now assort the peaches into four different grades—double extras, extras, primes and culls. This new machine is a little more intricate than the one now in use, but by a man with any mechanical tact, it can be easily and readily understood and operated. At a trial of it a few days ago on Crawford's Lane, with the rollers set at No. 1, Mr. Jones made one basket of double extra, two of extra, twenty-two of primes and two of culls. The taking out of the one basket of double extra did not hurt the appearance of the extras in the least; consequently all brought them over the extra would be some net gain.

Odessa Items.

Peach shipments still continue to be made, and will last for some time yet.

The apple crop this year is not very heavy; except of some varieties.

The private schools have begun their fall term. The public schools will open in a few weeks.

Messrs. Palk and Williams were thrown from their carriage a few days since, but were not very badly injured.

A party of young men were also tumbled down an embankment, with their carriage—breaking the vehicle, but escaping unscathed themselves.

Mr. R. L. Mailley has erected a large and comfortable coal house in the rear of his store house capable of holding a large amount of coal.

Accident.—Mamie, a little daughter of Mr. R. L. Mailley, fell a few days ago and was found by some children with whom she had been playing in an insensible condition.

The horses with the "blind staggers" under Mr. Harvey's treatment are rapidly recovering. The horse whose jaw bone was fractured some time ago is also doing very well.

This latter speaks well for the skill in veterinary surgery of Mr. Harvey.

The usual quietude and monotony of our town has been considerably disturbed recently by many incidents—the result of the too free use of fire water. On Saturday evening last several individuals were found sleping under the side walks, the curb pillow and Heaven's canopy their covering. The police's tender feelings prompted him to give them a softer bed and more comfortable lodging; so he picked them out and escorted them to the lockup where they were kept off the effect of their position and on Sunday morning were set at liberty.

Another party was arrested for wrongly appropriating to himself the greenbacks of another. A woman was also arrested for disturbance of the peace and lodged in the cells where she remained her "allotted time" and was discharged.

On Monday evening a party of three entered the saloon of Charles Adams and after drinking each struck one of the inmates and returned to the street. Mrs. H. caught up a stick and ran after the assailants and—measured her length in the gutter. The other two then marshalled their forces and started in hot pursuit of the law breakers. When the town limits were reached the party turned down pistols and defied further advance.
This brought the pursuers to a halt, and the chief, finding his way without a captive, retired. The injured parties are cor-valent and rapidly recovering. No arrests have yet been made.

Big Fights.

The Smyrna Times estimates the number of horses that have died, of the "blind staggers" within a radius of ten miles of that town, at 100, and the loss at $100,000. Those are pretty steep figures, neighbor; couldn't you take good care of one of the cypresses?

Good Prices.

R. W. Cochran, Esq., showed us the returns from some of his peaches sent this week to New York. They were of the Pallen variety and first rate. They brought $2.25, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 per basket, and there was a good lot of them. If anyone has beaten this in this year of too many peaches we would for curiosity's sake, like to hear of it.

Rev. Mr. Kenney Suspended.

The committee appointed to investigate the charges against the Rev. R. T. Kenney, of Wilmington, which had been in session at Chestertown, Pa., for the past three days concluded their labors on Thursday week. Mr.
Kenney is suspended from his ministerial charge to await the action of the next annual conference next spring. The evidence is not made public, but it is understood to be pretty strong.

Sunday School Institute.

There will be a Sunday School Teachers' Institute for Eastern District, held in the M.
E. Church at Middletown on Wednesday and Thursday, the 22nd and 23rd of September; exercises to commence at 2 o'clock P. M. on Wednesday. A very interesting programme of subjects has been arranged, with the Rev.
E. Stubbs, of Smyrna, Conductor, which alone is a sufficient guarantee for a very interesting time. The friends and workers in Sabbath Schools in general are cordially invited to be present.

Rev. Wm. M. Warner, P. O.

Arrest of the Senior Whitlock.

Yesterday, Deputy Sheriff, Wm. B. Ford, of Kirkwood, accompanied by Policeman Heald, came to Middletown and arrested John Whitlock, Sr., on a charge of being an accessory to the murder, by his son, of the negro Wm. Purches. The old man was found at the grog shop of his son. The officers entered the room at different doors and encountered Whitlock and another man. The officers saw the prisoner looking defiant at them, but offered no resistance. This arrest, it is said, was made to stop newspaper clamor.

Old Drawers Reunion.

The seventh annual reunion of the descendants and successors of the Presbyterians who were wont to worship in Old Drawers Church, many years ago, was held in the old building last Sunday. As usual a large audience, gathered from the congregations of the churches of Odessa, St. Georges, Delaware City, Port Penn, Pocomoke and Middletown, was in attendance and once more the old walls resounded to the hymns of praise Rev. Dr. John Crowell, of Odessa, preached in the morning and Rev. Mr. Rogers, of Glasgow, in the afternoon.

More Peaches for Europe.

Three crates of peaches were shipped from Middletown on Wednesday to go direct to Liverpool, England. They were coated with a preparation of paraffine made and patented by a gentleman from New York, which, it is claimed, will preserve them in a perfect condition for a long while. When the fruit is to be used it is only necessary to dip it in hot water and the paraffine is removed, so that it is in taste or appearance being left. The peaches were put up in the orchard of Mr. H.
N. Willis under the superintendence of the inventor of the process, and will leave Philadelphia to-day per steamer for Europe.

Green's August Flower.

It is natural for people suffering with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint or any derangement of the digestive organs, such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Heartburn, Water-brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Colic, Tongues, and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, loss of spirits, etc., to put off from day to day buying an article that they know has cured their neighbor, friend, or relative, yet they have no faith in it until it is too late. But if you will go to your druggist, Chamberlain's, Middletown, or J. P. Baker, Odessa, and get a bottle of Green's August Flower, your immediate cure is as certain as you live. Sample bottles of this medicine can be obtained for 10 cents try its superior virtues. Regular size 75 cents.
Try it, two doses will relieve any case.

Agricultural.
Fall Manuring.
No matter how susceptible manure is to fermentation, no matter whether it is fresh, heated up strongly, well rotted, or an old compost, if it is spread out thinly on the field, all fermentation is speedily checked, just as when a mass of lighted coals is scattered out over the ground, the glow ceases. The combustion declines, and even in the hottest summer day the fire is soon extinguished. If this spreading is done in the cool of autumn, and a gentle rain follows, all the elements of the manure that can suffer loss—the ammonia, potash, etc., dissolve and sink into the soil. But they can not go far down unless we have manured a gravel bed or a sand pit. On land fit for a farmer to handle, whether a natural loam or a sand or clay, subduced to a proper texture, the descent of fertilizing matter is arrested, as already mentioned by the beautiful chemistry of soil absorption, the slowly descending water is filtered by the soil of nearly all it took from the manure, and the real feeding qualities of the top dressing are distributed uniformly throughout the surface soil in a way no tillage can begin to imitate. Loss is reduced to its minimum, and the application is as perfect in style as in cost. If, on the contrary, the manure is spread out in hot weather, and less exposed some days to dry winds, the ammonia is contained in the form of carbonate, to be carried off into the atmosphere; but this loss is not so great as is often supposed. The quantities of volatile ammonia that can be got out of the stable manure by this exposure is certainly not greater than exists in it, and the analysis of Volker, Wolf and myself show that it amounts to but two to six parts in ten thousand of fresh or well-rotted manure.—John-son.

SOUTHDOWN SHEEP. John Westworth, of Chicago, Ill., a large stock breeder and agriculturist, in a recent circular, says: "After trying all kinds of sheep, we have given the preference for general utility to the Southdowns. Upon fair grounds they are ranked as medium woolled. They are half way in quality and quantity between the common sheep and Merinos. But their quality is the best in the world, and their wool grows the largest and commands the highest prices in all the markets, because most delicious. The day is not far distant when all our beef and pork will be demanded for Eastern and foreign markets. The West must live on mutton, and that of the fine woolled sheep is far from being palatable. Hence it is desirable that our farmers at once lay the foundation of a Southdown herd. Besides being the best of all food, there is no other that can be raised so cheap as Southdown mutton, as they are the hardest and can be kept in flock better than any others. The wool will pay for the keeping, thus leaving the carcass clear profit. For crossing upon the larger breed of sheep there are none superior to the Southdowns."

FERTILIZERS ON GRASS. The following experiments were made on first crop timothy and clover. The fertilizers were applied at the rate of $9 worth per acre, and were sown broadcast on April 14th. The grass was cut June 29th and weighed and put up June 30th:

The unfavorable result from the use of baro-yard manure was largely due to the unsuitableness of the season and the character of the manure. Unfortuned yard manure should be applied the previous fall for a grass crop.

GREEN MANURING. The cheapest manure obtained undoubtedly is in green crops, turned down. It is also one of the best of general fertilizers, and is what is usually wanted; that is clear from the fact that it is reproducing a crop. The difficulty in the case is, that the land too often is run down so as to be incapable of growing a heavy yield. Land moderately rich, therefore, is an advantage; and if still better, will proportionately increase this advantage. It requires a pretty good soil to grow a heavy crop of clover, peas, corn, the grains and other products, without any aid. A lucky, plaster will generally benefit clover and peas, two of the ranker growers, if favored, and containing rich material. And this is needed, with still other aids where the soil is quite poor.—Cultivator.

With farm animals, as with men, prevention of disease is better than cure; good care cheaper than medicine. Good food regularly given, and avoidance of all excess, will prevent many cases of disease.

He who uses a three-cent stamp where a two would suffice does something toward wiping out the National debt, and is entitled to his country's gratitude.

During a recent tornado in Knox county, Illinois, the wind blew the feathers off a plucky chicken which tried to stem the storm, until it was stripped bare.
